At Yarmouth High School, we want to:

- promote reading and discussion of literature in and beyond the classroom.
- involve readers of different ages, backgrounds, and experience.
- support students to be both independent and collaborative thinkers.
- use literature to learn about the world outside ours.

For this yearly project, we choose novels around a theme. This year we are reading stories about immigrants and characters who face conflicts of cultural identity. Please join us in by reading one of the titles below and participating in a discussion with students.
